December 1, 2021

Very best wishes to you and your family for a holiday season of peace and joy!

As we enter this season again different from past years and again requiring diligence and unwanted restrictions in order to remain safe and healthy, we are pleased to report that throughout the pandemic our library has continued to provide almost all services.

In addition to checking out books and other library materials, many other opportunities were provided for children and youth. The young lady you see pictured to the right is participating in a children's reading program presented outdoors and therefore free of masks. Throughout the year specially crafted book bundles were provided for children and youth. New collections, including games and DVD binge boxes as well as books, were added. The Story Stroll, which premiered in local area businesses in 2020, became a permanent offering this year. Many programs and innovations took place, all demonstrating the importance of the library in our community.

And now once again it's time for the Ced Vig Holiday Book Fund, a major annual fund raising effort initiated thirty-six years ago by respected educator Cedric Vig. Our goal this year is $18,000, and I hope you will feel encouraged to continue your support of our fine library through the Holiday Book Fund. Checks should be made payable to Rhinelander District Library Foundation; please write Holiday Book Fund on the memo line. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed for your convenience, or you may donate online at rdlfdoundation.org or in person at the library.

We are always grateful for your generous support, and we extend heartfelt wishes for exactly the holiday celebration you wish for.

Sincerely,

RHINELANDER DISTRICT LIBRARY FOUNDATION
